RSP Architects Names Bruce Corzine to Healthcare/Life Sciences Group

Corzine brings almost 30 years of medical architecture experience to the role.

Minneapolis (September 9, 2008) – Bruce Corzine, AIA, has joined the Healthcare/Life Sciences team at RSP Architects in Minneapolis. Corzine, who has 27 years of architectural experience in the medical and laboratory sectors, will help shape the direction of this rapidly growing practice area within the firm.

Prior to joining RSP, Corzine was a Senior Project Architect at TSP, Inc. in Minnetonka, Minn. There he was responsible for such projects as the Fairview Southdale Hospital, Edina, Minn. and Fairview Northland Medical Center, Princeton, Minn.; Deuel County Memorial Hospital, Clear Lake, S.D.; and the Gunderson Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse, Wis.

Over the course of almost three decades of architectural service, Corzine has worked with the Minneapolis firms Perkins + Will, OSM & Associates, and Ellerbe Becket. He has also worked at the Chicago firms VOA & Associates and Hansen Lind Meyer, Inc.

“I was drawn to RSP, because it is clearly one of the leading architectural firms in the Midwest,” Corzine said. “Beyond that, I think the firm’s commitment to healthcare is clear. The opportunities in this sector are limitless, and I am thrilled to be a part of this enterprise.”

RSP’s work in Healthcare/Life Sciences has a wide-ranging portfolio of work for such clients as Hennepin County Medical Center, the University of Minnesota, and The Mayo Clinic and Foundation.
